and a half cents for shearers where board is furnished and fourteen where the men board themselves. Five to ten thousand will be clipped in New Mile this spring.

Thirty-five thousand, six hundred and sixty-seven horses and mules are reported to have died from disease or wounds in the service of the United States before the armistice was signed. The total casualties were 42,311.

While it would have been impossible to have fought the war without the motor truck, the automobile and the motorcycle, it would also, says a correspondent of the Washington Post, have been impossible to have fought the war without the horse.

Up to the time of the signing of the armistice there were 191,631 horses with the American expeditionary force. Of these only 30,843 had been shipped from this country directly for our service. The balance had been received from France, England and Spain.

Sheepshearing will begin at Modena about April 15th, according to bulletin issued last Wednesday by J. Carl Altz of the U. S. weather bureau. At Wendover, the bulletin states, the bands have already begun to trail northward, but as yet there is no important movement in the Precipitation.

L. R. Anderson of Manti was in Price Saturday and Sunday after a trip to his herds on the old Ireland ranch in Emery county. His flocks and those of all others in that section have gone through the winter well. He will shear about six thousand head. The clip will come out to Price.

The Utah Associated Industries has been invited to be represented on the special program of the annual wool-growers' convention of the U. S. State Woolgrowers' association to be held April 1st. This is said to be in recognition of the services which the Associated Industries gave in making a studied survey and investigation into the possibility of establishing industries in the state, which would result from the storing and cleaning of wool.

Reports from the war department show that from the time the United States entered the war up to January 11, 1919, there was a total of 67,949 animals shipped overseas, which included 548,767 cavalry horses, 32,206 draft horses, 28,088 draft mules and nine hundred and seventy-five pack animals. The total number of animals lost en route overseas so far as reported is six hundred horses and mules, or less than 1 per cent of the total number of animals shipped.

Buffalo meat is still a prime favorite of the meat markets at Salt Lake City. It is retailing between twenty to fifty cents a pound, but it is claimed that the meat is really as cheap as beef round steaks at thirty or thirty-five cents, because in butchering the animal the bones are all removed, so no price is charged for their weight. Several of the buffalo from Antelope Island have been sold to Zion butchers and the meat is proving one of the most salable offered.

LIVE STOCK EXCHANGE PLANNED BY OGDENITES

OGDEN, March 13.—The Ogden Live Stock exchange was organized last night at a meeting attended by twenty-two representative stock dealers and commission men who signed for charter membership. Articles of incorporation are to be prepared immediately for a $25,000 organization. W. I. Norton will be first president; L. L. Koller, second vice president; John A. Moffat, secretary; R. D. Rogers, treasurer; with John Child and Del Hampton completing the directors. Headquarters for the new exchange will be at the Union stock yards. The organization has been brought about as the result of the large volume of business that has been done here in the heaviest trading points in the West. The need of the exchange here to bring about closer relations among dealers and to secure a uniformity of trade practices has been felt for some time, but has been brought most forcibly to attention this spring by a market that has grown rapidly.

The new exchange, which will probably become a member of the National Live Stock exchange at an early date, has been organized to maintain a commercial exchange, not for gain or profit, but to promote uniformity in the customs and usages of traders; to maintain principles of justice and equity in trade; to enforce correct and high moral principles in the transactions of business; to insure confidence in the methods and integrity of its members; to facilitate the speedy adjustment of business disputes; to acquire and disseminate valuable commercial and economic information; and generally to secure to its members and satisfy the benefit of co-operation in the furtherance of their legitimate interests.

WOOLMEN WANT FARMERS TO PRODUCE MORE SHEEP

When the Utah woolgrowers held their annual convention April 1st at Salt Lake City many subjects of importance will be discussed, according to C. B. Stewart, secretary of the as-

For Less than 3 Hundred Dollars You Can Buy What Cost 3 Million

Three million dollars was what it cost to perfect the New Edison. And if three times three million had been required it would have been spent. For when Thomas A. Edison assailed the problem of achieving an instrument which would actually re-create an artist's voice or instrument with such fidelity that by the test of direct comparison the two renditions could not be told apart he forgot expense. Month after month he remained buried in his laboratory, his every faculty concentrated upon one goal. Finally he emerged to announce the here at last was what the world had long awaited, an instrument which would re-create, not merely imitate, the exhibited.

The NEW EDISON "The Phonograph with a Soul"

"No human ear can distinguish between the living voice and its Re-Creation on this instrument," he told the directors of his company. "And the same applies to a violin, a cornet, a banjo—any musical instrument. Now build replicas. Don't lower the standard I have set in this official laboratory model. I've spent $3,000,000 to perfect this phonograph. It is ready to offer to the public." Hundreds of tone tests conducted in public have proved the truth of the great scientist's claim. The New Edison does re-create the artist's voice or instrument with such fidelity that the two renditions are indistinguishable. And now you can have in your home at the cost of but $285, the official laboratory model, as shown in a beautiful Chippendale or William and Mary cabinet—the instrument which cost $3,000,000 to perfect. Call tomorrow and hear your favorite songs re-created.

coriation. Dipping regulations and laws will be outlined and extreme care and co-operation will be urged in the matter of sheep avoidance. The necessity for fixing prices on sheep-shearing and for wages for herdsmen and castrators will be advocated. According to Stewart as high as twenty dollars to thirty dollars a day was made by shearers during the war, due to the exorbitant rates that some of the sheepmen were forced to pay for shearing. It is hoped that a maximum of fourteen cents per head will be fixed as the price paid to shearers in Utah. "At that figure a good shearer can earn from ten dollars to twenty dollars a day," says Stewart.

Other subjects that will be treated are lowering of taxation on sheep to meet the market price, outlining of the bounty laws that will have been passed by the state legislature, discussion of best methods for co-operation of state, government and individuals in extermination of pestiferous wild animals and the passage of stringent regulations protesting against the increase of grazing prices in forest reserves.

One of the most significant subjects to be taken up will be the starting of a statewide propaganda to get every farmer to own a few sheep. "Not until every ranch and farm-owner does this will production of live stock be sufficient to meet the demand for meat in the future," declares Stewart.

That sheep by nature of their close grazing habits can eat the weed and grasses of the farm that cattle cannot touch and thus practically maintain themselves is Stewart's contention in favor of the "own a few sheep" campaign.

PACKERS AND PRODUCERS ARE GETTING TOGETHER CHICAGO, March 12.—What was officially characterized as an "epoch-making" event in the live stock industry was announced here today. It is an organization of live stock men and packers, with the government represented, designed to eliminate differences between packers and live stock producers as fast as they occur. The announcement came in the form of a forty-eight-hour conference attended by representatives of the live stock associations of five states and about fifteen leading packers of the country. "Big five" packers all entered into the agreement.

The state associations represented were those of Kansas, Illinois, Iowa, Missouri and Texas. Other associations, it was said, will join the movement. Besides the Chicago packers there were packinghouse representatives from Buffalo, Indianapolis, Detroit, Cleveland, Austin, Tex., St. Louis and Pueblo, Colo. The conference adopted a plan which calls for a conference committee of the live stock industry, composed of twenty-three representatives of the producers, the packers and the commission men and a government member.

The agreement was regarded as tentative until it has been sanctioned by interests not at the conference. The plan recommends local committees at all of the leading live stock markets. Growers who think they have been unfairly treated in any market may obtain the facts through the local committee by which they will be fully represented, according to the plan. In a general way it is thought that the organization, as yet unnamed, will go far to assist in the problems of reconstruction and those brought out by removal of government control through the food administration.

MAIL NOW ACCEPTED FOR SOUTHERN RUSSIA POINTS Uncle Sam's mails can now reach Southern Russia. Because the Mediterranean and Black seas have been closed by war activities, no mail sent from the United States has reached Black Sea ports since the opening of the war. Now, however, letters and postcards of a personal or domestic character will be accepted for Odessa, Sebastopol, Novorossk, Ekaterinodar and Caucasus. All such mail will be subjected to censorship in the European country to which they are dispatched for onward transmission. The country in question, it is thought, by local postoffice authorities, will be Sweden or Holland. No registered articles will be accepted for transmission.
